Hi

I am emailing to express my absolute dismay at the current development plan for County Louth. I fear that my two young sons will have no choice but to move to an urban community when older.

It may be their decision to do so but it should also be their decision to build in the Community they were brought up in if they wish to.

As a couple myself and my husband have lived and worked in Belfast and Dublin. I have also worked and lived in Melbourne and Sydney and although the life experiences we received in large urban areas were valuable it is not a lifestyle we wished to continue living in or indeed able to afford as two public service workers (guard and nurse).

Please do not destroy our rural communities and isolate our older populations even more. Perhaps better recommendation or restrictions should be put in place but do not take choice away.

A concerned citizen of Cooley
