Dear Sirs,

I am appalled, and totally shocked, at the proposals of Louth County Council to consider rural changes, which if passed, will prevent me from exercising my natural right, of being able to give each of my two children, a site on which to build a house, in the area in which they were born and bred.

If these proposals are permitted to come to pass, I will have to, possibly along with others similarly affected by the changes, consider legal action against the Council, and those who vote in favour of such plans, which will deprive my children of their natural inheritance.

In addition to the personal reason above, the proposed changes will force countless young people onto the burgeoning housing list, which reportedly already cannot cope with the demands placed upon it.

Yours sincerely,

Donal Marron
