Hi,

My name is Simon mc ateer, I have lived in Omeath all my life and I would like to raise my objection to the new draft development plan which would prevent non farmers or people whose parents do not have enough land from applying for planning permission in future.

I believe I am as much a part of this community as anyone else, I went to school here, have grown up here, spend thousands of euros every year here and will be forced to move away as I am not wanted here, while every house that comes on the market is snapped up by some rich person from Dublin who needs a second home for the weekend. If this plan goes through it will devastate a community which is already losing future generations at an alarming rate. My children may have to move away when they get older.
