I Anthony Keenan of Bellurgan Point, Dundalk am against the new development plan. My father has two small limited companies and has lived in Bellurgan Point his whole life. He has raised his family of eight and during the past 50 years has purchased 9 acres of land in two parts.

This was firstly to ensure that members of the family who wished to remain beside the family home would have their own opportunity to build their own house subject to planning permission. Secondly the property purchased is also available should he wish to expand his workshop or public house.

I find it absurd that my family will have not have a chance to raise their family in a Community where their family resided for 100's of years.

There is currently an ongoing issues with housing in regard there is not enough to meet the demand Should this development plan be given the go ahead new generations will have no option but to seek housing in urban areas when already the demand cannot be met.

Schools in the rural area would also be affected as new generations would be forced to require education in urban areas.

These are my reasons for objection.
