Hello

I am writing today to express my view that the above plan is a direct assault on targeted against the rights of rural families where our children will become the victims of this I'll conceived development plan.

This ability of each new generation to build a new life in the familiar surroundings & history of home is both a privilege and honour.

Implementing a broad brush plan without paying attention to the impact on the smaller but no less important communities in rural areas will be hugely damaging for years to come the of which effects will only be endured by future generations.

Please now take the opportunity to review and revise this proposed plan which I feel is hugely detrimental to our rural community and completely at odds with the values Ireland stands for.

Regards

Michael
