To whom it may concern,

My name is James Lee. I reside at [], Collon, Co. Louth and I am an employee of [], working in Ardee. I have always lived in the country and would hate to have to live in a town.

I am opposed to the concept of future generations being prohibited from building in the country side. I think an individual's choice to build to live in the countryside is associated with many life enhancing facets including self achievement, lifestyle, mental health etc. I believe the surge of planning applications county councils are currently processing is communicating clearly that a measurable segment of the population value country living and possibly the challenge of building and shaping their own futures. Imagine the potential impacts of prohibiting this these people.

As such, I wish to formally object to the proposed Louth County Development Plan, particularly relating to the Rural Zone 1 designation and its stringent regulations.

If this plan goes ahead as proposed, it will lead to much devastation in rural areas of the county, impacting negatively on families already living in the country and their children not being allowed to build near them.

I hope to see it rethought and a more optimal solution reached.

Kind regards,

James Lee
