

Do I need planning permission to demolish a building?

You need planning permission to demolish:

- i. A habitable house
- ii. A building which forms part of a terrace of buildings (these can be any type of buildings i.e. shops, offices)
- iii. A building which abuts another building in separate ownership.