

What happens if my Planning Application is invalid?

If your application is invalid, that is,

- It lacks some of the required documentation
- Lacks the appropriate fee
- Is in any other way inadequate

it will be returned to you and the fee refunded.

The statutory eight-week period within which the Planning Authority must make its decision begins from the time you submit a valid application.