

What is an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS)?

Certain types of planning applications which are considered by the Planning Authority to have potentially significant effects on the environment will require the submission of an EIS with the application. In some cases an EIS may be requested as Further Information. In cases where an EIS has been submitted the timescale for making a decision on foot of Further Information received is 8 weeks, rather than the usual 4 weeks.