Mr. Gartlan having laid before the Grand Jury a copy of a plan proposed by Sir John Macneill, and submitted by him to her Majesty's Government, for the extension of a cheap system of Railways in Ireland,

Resolved—We are of opinion that a plan for the creation of cheap Railway accommodation throughout Ireland, particularly to the North West, the only district at present without the prospect of Railway communication, would be of great importance and advantage to the Kingdom, tending as it must do to the employment of the population and the encreasing and developing her agricultural resources.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

Gentlemen,

The applications to be laid before you at this Assizes, amount to £1589 12s. 11d.; of which the portion on the County at Large is £251 19s. 7d.; on the Barony of Ardee, £403 19s. 11d.; on the Barony of Upper Dundalk, £231 9s. 7d.; on the Barony of Lower Dundalk, £157 6s. 5d.; on the Barony of Ferrard, £406 1s. 7d.; and the portion on the Barony of Louth, £79 1s. 10d. In addition to the foregoing, tenders are being opened for completing a portion of the new line of road through Carlingford Mountain District, in the Barony of Lower Dundalk, commenced as a Relief Work, the expense of which is not to exceed £1000. This is the only large Work of any importance on the Schedule, and, from the great necessity of opening up the district through which the road passes, the application deserves your favourable consideration.

The hills of Ballybarrack have been lowered since the last Assizes.—The Contractor deserves much credit for having finished his contract in a very satisfactory manner, and within the time mentioned in his bond.

The contracts for the works on new roads through the deep bogs of Ardee and Glack, in the Barony of Ardee, have also been completed; these roads are of great benefit to the neighbouring districts as lines of communication, and by opening up the bogs through which they pass; but a presentment for soling and metalling about 100 perches of the former is still necessary, to complete it as a line of communication.

The continued rains during the past season have not been favourable to road contractors, but, with some exceptions, which shall be stated in the list of defaulters, they have attended pretty fairly to their works. There were 420 miles of roads under repairs and contract during the past year, at an expense of £4814 14s. 7d.; in 1848, there were only 376 miles, but at an expense of £5110 15s. The expense of repairs were latterly much increased by the unfinished Relief Works thrown on the County. However, by comparing the mean expenditure of 1848 and 1849 with that of 1843 and 1844, on the repairs and maintenance of roads, we get, mean expenditure of repairs and maintenance in 1843 and 1844, £5717 10s. 4d.; like mean expenditure of 1848 and 1849, £4962 9s. 8d.; mean yearly reduction of expenditure in 1848 and 1849, £754 0s. 8d. The mean yearly expenditure on repairs and maintenance within the last two years has been, therefore, reduced below the like expenditure in 1843 and 1844, by £755.

From a desire to avail themselves of the provisions of any new Fiscal Laws, which might pass during the present Session of Parliament, the Magistrates and Cess Payers at the late Road Sessions only sanctioned contracts of repairs for periods not exceeding one year. Here it may be necessary to mention, that the provisions of the Fiscal Bill, printed last Session, bearing on the execution of County Works, seem to me defective in some points, and any suggestions as to its improvement, from Grand Juries, if laid before the proper authorities, would be of use, and might prevent serious inconvenience in the practical working of the new Law.

Since the Summer Assizes, proceedings have been taken against the Dublin and Belfast Junction Railway Company in two cases, and damages obtained. The promises made long since, by this Company, to complete the crossings, have not yet been performed, nor have those of the Dundalk and Enniskillen Company.

Both Companies are now, however, at work on some of the crossings; but they have heretofore exhibited every inclination to have them as unfinished as the County would permit.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.

Ordered—That a Copy of the County Surveyor's General Specification for the repairs of roads be printed in each Warrant.

In consequence of the representation made to this Grand Jury, as to the Petty Sessions Courts at Carlingford and Ravensdale having been built expressly for the accommodation of the public, and affording adequate accommodation, this Grand Jury are of opinion that the rent of said houses should be continued at Ten Pounds each, as heretofore.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE GRAND JURY, AT SUMMER ASSIZES, 1849—ORDERED TO BE PRINTED IN THE GRAND WARRANT FOR THE FUTURE, VIZ.:

Resolved—That it be notified to the Cess Payers, that the Grand Jury will not, for the future, entertain any petitions from contractors, and that all contracts will require to be executed in strict conformity with the specifications prepared by the County Surveyor.

Ordered—That the County Surveyor refuse a certificate to any contractor who neglects to keep the water-tables, along the line of road for which he has contracted, clear and free from weeds, and also make suitable outlets to carry off the water.

COUNTY OF LOUTH.

Specification and Instructions to repair and keep in repair until Assizes, 185

Perches of the Road from between

and

The repairs to be commenced immediately after the ensuing Assizes, and to be proceeded with without intermission until the road is put in specified order.

The road is to have a clear carriage way as wide as the existing fences or grips will permit, but in no place to be less than feet wide, clear of banks, drains, and fences, and feet wide, with broken stone or prepared gravel: where less, the road is to brought to these widths,

In towns and villages the road is to be kept in repair from water-table to water-table with broken stone.

The road to be brought to a regular curvilineal slope, from the centre to the sides, on the cross sections; the whole fall, from the centre or crown, to be at the rate of one in fifty; comparatively flat at the crown, but steeper at the shoulders, all inequalities to be reduced by picking the high parts, and applying the materials to the low parts as may be required. The sides and water-tables are to be neatly defined by continuous lines parallel to the centre of the road, and free from sudden bends. The fall at the shoulders not to exceed one in eighteen.

Along declivities, particular attention will be required in keeping the cross-section perfect.

Outlets or pipes to be made through the fences to carry off the water from where it would otherwise lodge on the water-tables, into the adjacent grips, fields, or water-courses.

Inlets to be made in like cases to convey the water into the next gullet, sewer, or water-way under bridge.

Along declivities, outlets are not to be farther apart than ten perches; inlets are to be made into all cross drains, or gullets; all grips on the field side of the fences and water drains, if any, to be kept open to allow a free passage for the water, and keep its surface at least two feet under the crown of the road

Where paved water-tables are in existence, as in streets and declivities, they are to be repaired and preserved. The water-tables, shoulders, and sides of the road to be kept constantly free from all nuisances.

All stones appearing in the road exceeding two and a-half inches in diameter to be picked up, taken aside, made into heaps, and broken.

The road to be kept free from mud by scraping, the scrapings, when sufficiently dry, to be carted off, unless required to fill grips along the road, or complete the fences.

In towns and villages, the scrapings are to be immediately removed in mud carts kept or provided by the contractor for that purpose.

cubic yards at least of broken stone or prepared gravel to be used on the road per perch, for year, the stones to be broken so as to pass an inch and a-half ring, to be laid down as shall be directed.

The most durable materials to be had in the neighbourhood to be used; the hardest and toughest are best. No soft stone, shale, or pencil, to be used in any place for repairs.

When gravel is the material used, it is to be screened so as no stone shall exceed one and a-half inch, or be less than half an-inch in its greatest and least dimensions; the screening larger than one and a-half inch are to be preserved and broken to pass an inch and a half-inch ring.

After the road is scraped, the weak portions are to be darned with sufficient quantity of broken stone or prepared gravel, and a preparation made by picking the crust of the road to be darned that the new materials may combine smoothly with the road, and form a regular surface. In darning, the stones are to be laid close and in contact with each other. Particular attention will be required in breaking and sorting gravel used for darning

When the road is gridironed or cut into longitudinal ruts, the contractor will be required to lay on a full coat of material over the portion gridironed, after picking or raking, and not merely fill the ruts as is usual.

The contractor will be required to put out along the road, or place in depots, the quantity of material specified (Section 13.), on or before the 1st day of year, to be measured by the Surveyor's Assistant. The stones to be arranged in narrow heaps, not exceeding two feet in width, close to the fences, and containing about a yard each.

All existing gullets, drains, and grips, on the field side to be kept in repair and free for the water to pass through. In case of a sudden damage occurring along the line, the contractor is to give the Surveyor notice to that effect, describing the nature of the damage, within at least one week after it occurs. The fences along the line and slopes to be kept in repair. The battlements or parapets of bridges on the road to be protected and kept in their present repair, or as they may be hereafter repaired.

Louth County Archives

Contractor to keep the road constantly free from nuisances, and to summon and prosecute all offending parties, under the 6th & 7th Wm. IV., Chap. 115, Sec. 159. In cases of injury to the road by trees or hedges the contractor is to require the owner of the land to prune them. The parties are to be summoned before the Justices at Petty Sessions in case of non-compliance within ten days. Sec. 161, same Act.

The contractor is to deliver up the road at the expiration of his contract in good repair as above defined, and at any time during the existence of his contract to attend to and carry into effect any further instructions the Surveyor may find it necessary to give for the due repair and preservation of the road.

Dated this day of 185

JOHN NEVILLE,
County Surveyor of Louth.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

Gentlemen,

The amount of applications to be brought before you at this Assizes is £2873 11s. 2d.; of which the portion on the County at Large is, £331 2s. 0d.; the portion on the Barony of Ardee £683 6s. 4d.; the portion on the Barony of Drogheda, £24 10s. 7d.; the portion on the Barony of Upper Dundalk, £643 8s. 3d.; the portion on the Barony of Lower Dundalk, £424 13s. 7d.; the portion on the Barony of Ferrard, £594 7s. 6d.; and that on the Barony of Louth, £172 2s. 11d.

The portion of the above sum for works entirely new; the repairs of roads not under repair for the last two years, bridges, gullets, buildings, and for lowering hills is £737 2s. 10d. which is divided as follows,

Contracts for making and repairing new roads, ...	£388	8	10
Repairs of old roads not under contract for the last 2 years,...	207	8	0
Bridges, Walls, and Gullets, ...	67	6	0

The new road from the mills of Louth, by Wildgoose Lodge, to Aclint is now open for traffic, and a contract for its maintenance is to be laid before you. The lateral drains along the fences have been of great use in draining the bog and marsh through which a portion of this line passes; and a district hitherto almost entirely shut up, is now fully opened for the occupiers and the public.

A sum of £104 10s. for finishing the bog road from Ardee, through Glack, to Drumcondra, has been sanctioned at Road Sessions. The expenditure of this sum if granted, will complete the works. The Glack and Ardee bog district, will then be entirely opened up without further expense, unless for maintaining the road.

The stones broken during the relief works on the new road from Dundalk to Newtownhamilton, through Lurgankeel, have been gradually vanishing. A sum of £100 was therefore granted at road Sessions to spread them, and fence in the line, as the land has been all paid for.—A contract for £78 17s 4d was accepted at the adjourned Sessions, and if sanctioned, a large saving will be effected for the County, whenever this line of road shall be completed.

A sum of £160 1s 6d for stoning and repairing a portion of the Glen more new road in the Barony of Lower Dundalk, is sought for at this Assizes. This sum, if sanctioned, will complete 337 perches of the line in the townland of Castletown Cooley, and open up a portion of the line for about a mile above Gyles' Castle.

The Grand Jury, at the last Assizes, intimated that the respective roads in the County should be classified, and that prices, suited to the traffic on each road, should be decided on. I have since been considering the subject, and preparing data for a map of the County, which I hope to lay before you, with a detailed report, at the next Spring Assizes. In my report on the classification of the County roads, printed in the Warrant for Spring Assizes, 1844, an arrangement was suggested which would designate thirteen classes. The termini of the contracts are now, however, a good deal changed, and this must change the class. As the present arrangement of the contracts works pretty well, it would, if unchanged, enable the Grand Jury to designate each contract by a particular fixed number. If this number be always attached to the same contract, in the same Barony, and always printed as referring to it in the Grand Warrant, the respective numbers, from unity upwards, could be arranged so as to correspond with the traffic on the road, and thus, these numbers would form, in themselves, the most natural classification.—They should be printed so as the first class would appear first, the second next, and so on; and if no contract was entered into, the number itself, corresponding to any particular road out of contract, with a blank after it, could be printed. The Grand Warrant would, if printed in this manner, be not only a document shewing the roads under contract, but those out of contract. This would involve a change in the arrangement of the Warrant itself, but no additional expense would be incurred, and the respective kinds of work under the heads of maintenance, repairs, constructions, buildings, &c, might be properly classified, and readily referred to, for statistical purposes. At present the Grand Jury Warrant gives the entire sum chargeable on each district, but not the proportionate expense of each department, or class of work. If a Cess Payer, in order to test a system, or acquire information, wishes to know the average expense of maintenance, buildings, or any other class of County works in his Barony, or in the County at Large, he has no means of acquiring the desired information but by a laborious process of taking out the items separately from the Warrant, and classifying them himself. The arrangement I now suggest, in a general manner, would afford any party, desirous of knowledge on County expenditure, that knowledge without delay.

The arrangement I suggest, of designating each contract by a number inversely proportionate to its class, has this advantage, in addition to its simplicity, that the undischarged queries could be always referred to by the corresponding numbers alone, instead of printing the description of the road and contract in full as at present. This arrangement would save the County a considerable sum for printing and re-printing undischarged queries.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.

COUNTY OF LOUTH.

Barony of No. S Assizes, 18
Specification and Instructions to repair and keep in repair until Assizes, 18 Perches of the Road from between
and

The repairs to be commenced immediately after the ensuing Assizes, and to be proceeded with without intermission until the road is put in specified order.

The road is to have a clear carriage way as wide as the existing fences or grips will permit, but in no place to be less than feet wide, clear of banks, drains, and fences, and feet wide, with broken stone, or prepared gravel: where less, the road is to be brought to these widths,
In towns and villages, the road is to be kept in repair from water-table to water-table with broken stone.

The road to be brought to a regular curvilineal slope, from the centre to the sides, on the cross sections; the whole fall, from the centre or crown, to be at the rate of one in fifty; comparatively flat at the crown, but steeper at the shoulders, all inequalities to be reduced by picking the high parts, and applying the material to the low parts as may be required. The sides and water-tables are to be neatly defined by continuous lines parallel to the centre of the road, and free from sudden bends. The fall at the shoulders not to exceed one in eighteen.

Along declivities, particular attention will be required in keeping the cross section perfect.

Outlets or pipes to be made through the fences to carry off the water from where it would otherwise lodge on the water-tables, into the adjacent grips, fields, or water-courses.

Inlets to be made in like cases to convey the water into the next gullet, sewer, or water-way under bridge.

Along declivities, outlets are not to be farther apart than ten perches; inlets are to be made into all cross drains, or gullets; all grips on the field side of the fences and water-drains, if any, to be kept open to allow a free passage for the water, and keep its surface at least two feet under the crown of the road.

Where paved water-tables are in existence, as in streets and declivities, they are to be repaired and preserved. The water-tables, shoulders, and sides of the road to be kept constantly free from all nuisances.

All stones appearing in the road exceeding two and a-half inches in diameter to be picked up, taken aside, made into heaps, and broken.

The road to be kept free from mud by scraping, the scrapings when sufficiently dry, to be carted off, unless required to fill grips along the road, or complete the fences.

In towns and villages, the scrapings are to be immediately removed in mud carts, kept or provided by the contractor for that purpose.

cubic yards at least of broken stone or prepared gravel to be used on the road per perch, for year, the stones to be broken so as to pass an inch and a-half ring, to be laid down as shall be directed.

The most durable materials to be had in the neighbourhood to be used; the hardest and toughest are best. No soft stone, shale, or pencil, to be used in any place for repairs.

When gravel is the material used, it is to be screened so as no stone shall exceed one and a-half inch, or be less than half-an-inch in its greatest and least dimensions; the screening larger than one and a-half inch are to be preserved and broken to pass an inch and a half-inch ring.

After the road is scraped, the weak portions are to be darned with sufficient quantity of broken stone or prepared gravel, and a preparation made by picking the crust of the road to be darned that the new materials may combine smoothly with the road, and form a regular surface. In darning, the stones are to be laid close and in contact with each other. Particular attention will be required in breaking and sorting gravel used for darning.

Louth County Archives

When the road is gridironed or cut into longitudinal ruts, the contractor will be required to lay on a full coat of material over the portion gridironed, after picking or raking, and not merely fill the ruts as is usual.

The contractor will be required to put out along the road, or place in depots, the quantity of material specified (Section 13), on or before the 1st day of year, to be measured by the Surveyor's Assistant. The stones to be arranged in narrow heaps, not exceeding two feet in width, close to the fences, and containing about a yard each.

All existing gullets, drains, and grips, on the field side to be kept in repair and free for the water to pass through. In case of a sudden damage occurring along the line, the contractor is to give the Surveyor notice to that effect, describing the nature of the damage, within at least one week after it occurs, The fences along the line and slopes to be kept in repair. The battlements or parapets of bridges on the road to be protected and kept in their present repair, or as they may be hereafter repaired. The contractor to cut down and remove all weeds growing along the road between the fences.

Contractor to keep the road constantly free from nuisances, and to summon and prosecute all offending parties, under the 6th & 7th Wm. IV., Chap. 115, Sec. 159. In cases of injury to the road by trees or hedges, the contractor is to require the owner of the land to prune them. The parties are to be summoned before the Justices at Petty Sessions in case of non-compliance within ten days. Sec. 161, same Act.

The contractor is to deliver up the road at the expiration of his contract in good repair as above defined, and at any time during the existance of his contract to attend to and carry into effect any further instructions the Surveyor may find it necessary to give for the due repair and preservation of the road.

Dated this day of 18

JOHN NEVILLE,
County Surveyor of Louth.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

Gentlemen,

There are no new road works of any importance to be brought before you at this Assizes. The Applications are of the usual kind, and almost entirely for the repairs and maintenance of roads for the coming year.

The number of miles of road under repairs and maintenance during the past year, was 469½ nearly. This exceeds the number of miles under repairs and maintenance in 1848, by 88 miles, and in 1849, by 43 miles. The whole of the Presentments for road works, including the expenses of my Office, for each of the three preceding years, appear as follows.

Year.	Presentments.	miles of road under repairs.
1848, ...	£7980	375½
1849, ...	7490	420½
1850, ...	7896	463½

In addition to the saving exhibited by this table, if the mileage of roads under repair be supposed the same for each of the years, I have to report that the state in which the contract roads are kept is improving. The neglected contracts are not many, but there are some in each Barony, though the amount represented in aid of the Cess, during the past year, for such works, amounted to £575 14s. 8d.

Some instances of heedlessly low tenders for works adopted at the late road Sessions, appear on the face of the Schedule. Under the present state of the law, I see no remedy but that of withholding the certificates when the work is not properly performed, and sueing the defaulters and their Securities, for the penalties.

The Cess Payers for the Barony of Upper Dundalk, at the last past Road Sessions, rejected an application for the repairs of the new road from the foot of Ballybarrack hill, to Killaly cross, constructed previously to my appointment. This will throw the traffic on the old road to the West of the Workhouse, for the coming season. If the Cess Payers continue to reject Applications, for the repairs of the new road, it will be necessary to take some steps for improving the Gradients, by cutting down some of the hills on the old one.

Since the last Assizes, one of my Assistants died, and another resigned. Their positions have been since temporary filled by two others. I lately held an examination of Candidates for the vacancies, the result of which, shall be submitted for your consideration.

I beg to call your attention to the present state of the County Court-House, and Courts, and to mention the almost general complaints made by professional Gentlemen, of the draughts and want of accommodation, in the latter. The walls over the opes in the vestibules and hall, are giving way, and settlements appear in them: a slight examination will shew that it is very necessary that something should be immediately done for the preservation if not for the improvment of the building.

Louth County Archives

I have the honor to be Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.

Ordered—That Whereas it has come to the knowledge of the Grand Jury that the applotter for Ardee Parish has in certain cases laid on an amount of Cess which is not according to the ordnance Valuation and therefore contrary to the Act of Parliament, our Solicitor be requested to inform the Applotter that his conduct has been illegal and that he be cautioned against a repetition of such a practice.

Resolved—That it is expedient in future that the Grand Jury at each Spring Assizes, shall in appointing the Board of Superintendance of the Gaol, place on the list at least two persons who were not members of the Board of Superintendance appointed at the preceding Spring Assizes.

Resolutions passed by the Grand Jury, at Summer Assizes, 1849, ordered to be printed in the Grand Warrant for the future, viz.:

Ordered—That it be notified to the Cess Payers, that the Grand Jury will not, for the future, entertain any petitions from Contractors, and that all contracts will require to be executed in strict conformity with the Specifications prepared by the County Surveyor.

Ordered—That the County Surveyor refuse a certificate to any contractor who neglects to keep the Water tables along the line of road for which he has contracted, clear and free from weeds, and also make suitable outlets to carry off the Water.

Blank Copy of County Surveyor's Specification for Repairs of Roads Ordered to be Printed in Grand Warrant.

COUNTY OF LOUTH.

Barony of No. S Assizes, 18
Specification and Istructions to repair and keep in repair until Assizes, 18 Perches of the Road from to between and

The repairs to be commenced immediately after the ensuing Assizes, and to be proceeded with without intermission until the road is put in specified order.

The road is to have a clear carriage way as wide as the existing fences or grips will permit, but in no place to be less than feet wide, clear of banks, drains, and fences, and feet wide, with broken stone, or prepared gravel: where less, the road is to be brought to these widths,

In towns and villages, the road is to be kept in repair from water-table to water-table with broken stone.

The road to be brought to a regular curvilineal slope, from the centre to the sides, on the cross sections; the whole fall, from the centre or crown, to be at the rate of one in fifty; comparatively flat at the crown, but steeper at the shoulders, all inequalities to be reduced by picking the high parts, and applying the material to the low parts as may be required. The sides and water-tables are to be neatly defined by continuous lines parallel to the centre of the road, and free from sudden bends. The fall at the shoulders not to exceed one in eighteen.

Along declivities, particular attention will be required in keeping the cross section perfect

Outlets or pipes to be made through the fences to carry off the water from where it would otherwise lodge on the water-tables, into the adjacent grips, fields, or water-courses.

Inlets to be made in like cases to convey the water into the next gullet, sewer, or water-way under bridge.

Along declivities, outlets are not to be farther apart than ten perches; inlets are to be made into all cross drains, or gullets; all grips on the field side of the fences and water-drains if any, to be kept open to allow a free passage for the water, and keep its surface at least two feet under the crown of the road.

Where paved water-tables are in existence, as in streets and declivities, they are to be repaired and preserved. The water-tables shoulders, and sides of the road to be kept constantly free from all nuisances.

All stones appearing in the road exceeding two and a-half inches in diameter to be picked up, taken aside, made into heaps, and broken.

The road to be kept free from mud by scraping, the scrapings when sufficiently dry, to be carted off, unless required to fill grips along the road, or complete the fences,

In towns and villages, the scrapings are to be immediately removed in mud carts, kept or provided by the contractor for that purpose.

Louth County Archives

cubic yards at least of broken stone or prepared gravel to be used on the road per perch, for year, the stones to be broken so as to pass an inch and a-half ring, to be laid down as shall be directed.

The most durable materials to be had in the neighbourhood to be used; the hardest and toughest are best. No soft stone, shale, or pencil to be used in any place for repairs.

When gravel is the material used, it is to be screened so as no stone shall exceed one and a-half inch, or be less than half-an-inch in its greatest and least dimensions; the screening larger than one and a-half are to be preserved, and broken to pass an inch and a half-inch ring.

After the road is scraped, the weak portions are to be darned with sufficient quantity of broken stone or prepared gravel, and a preparation made by picking the crust of the road to be darned that the new materials may combine smoothly with the road, and form a regular surface. In darning, the stones are to be laid close and in contact with each other. Particular attention will be required in breaking and sorting gravel used for darning.

When the road is gridironed or cut into longitudinal ruts, the contractor will be required to lay on a full coat of material over the portion gridironed, after picking or raking, and not merely fill the ruts as is usual.

The contractor will be required to put out along the road, or place in depots, the quantity of material specified (Section 13), on or before the 1st day of year, to be measured by the Surveyor's Assistant. The stones to be arranged in narrow heaps, not exceeding two feet in width, close to the fences, and containing about a yard each.

All existing gullets, drains, and grips, on the field side, to be kept in repair, and free for the water to pass through. In case of a sudden damage occurring along the line, the contractor is to give the Surveyor notice to that effect, describing the nature of the damage, within at least one week after it occurs. The fences along the line and slopes to be kept in repair. The battlements or parapets of bridges on the road to be protected and kept in their present repair, or as they may be hereafter repaired. The contractor to cut down and remove all weeds growing along the road between the fences.

Contractors to keep the road constantly free from nuisances, and to summon and prosecute all offending parties, under the 6th & 7th Wm. IV., Chap. 115, Sec. 159. In case of injury to the road by trees or hedges, the contractor is to require the owner of the land to prune them. The parties are to be summoned before the Justices at Petty Sessions in case of non-compliance within ten days. Sec. 161, same Act.

The contractor is to deliver up the road at the expiration of his contract in good repair as above defined, and at any time during the existence of his contract to attend to and carry into effect any further instructions the Surveyor may find it necessary to give for the due repair and preservation of the road.

JOHN NEVILLE,
County Surveyor of Louth.

COUNTY SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

Gentlemen,

The applications for presentments at the present Assizes, are of the usual kind; they amount to £278: 9s. 2d. and are principally for the renewal of repairs to roads heretofore kept in repair by presentments.

The only application for the repair of a road not repaired by presentment for the last 10 years' is No. 16, in the Barony of Upper Dundalk, this road leads from the Red Barn road to the sea at the South Marsh; it is a useful road and the repairs are necessary.

Tenders for two certified applications have to be opened before the usual presentments are entered into—one for repairing the bridge of Newfoundwell, at the boundary of the Baronies of Drogheda and Ferrard, at an expense not exceeding £130; and the other for building a new Bridge in the Barony of Upper Dundalk, on the new road from Dundalk to Newtownhamilton, also not to exceed £130—both these works are very necessary.

The recent floods have done some injuries to old Arches and Gullets, in the Baronies of Lower Dundalk and Ferrard.

Magistrates orders have however been obtained for the repairs of those damages most dangerous, and I trust that the repairs to be effected under these orders will be found sufficient until applications can be made in the regular manner at Presentment Sessions, for final repairs—where the amounts of the orders are insufficient to complete effectually the works injured.

The general state of the County roads is much improved, and I have been happy to learn that this improvement has given much satisfaction to the Cess-Payers. With respect to the particular contracts I shall be able to report in detail as they come before you.

Under the directions of a Committee of the Grand Jury, I, some time since, prepared plans for the improvement of the County Courts, but nothing has been done towards obtaining a presentment since the last Assizes, some improvements connected with public decency outside the Court-house are strongly called for, and in my judgment it would be necessary to obtain a presentment to effect these, as soon as possible.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Your obedient Servant,

JOHN NEVILLE.
